Pembroke House

From the HM

It is crazy to think we are already halfway through this Autumn term! So much has happened and yet we still have so much of the year to go. As always the term started apace with House singing just two weeks into term. As always the girls did Pembroke House proud and finished third in both the House song and the Part song.

The House has continued to be a hub for the girls and lots of things have been happening at both break time and after school. House nights have continued to be as popular as ever and we have already seen canvas painting, bingo, film nights, karaoke and many more fun activities.

I have been so proud of all the girls this term and it has been wonderful to see so many involved in many aspects of school life. One such memorable day was "Brain Day", which involved all A level Psychology and Biology students. The pupils were treated to a brain dissection and also lectures by Dr Guy Sutton. His message about the development of the teenage brain was certainly a topic I would advise you to look further into.

We have had many successful sports days already this term and it has been wonderful to see so many Pembroke girls representing the school in Cross-country, Netball and Hockey.

As always there are a number of trips going ahead over half-term and as expected many of the Pembroke girls will be involved. I am excited to hear all about these trips and all the other adventures the girls will get up to over the October half-term.

As we look forward to the October break I am sure you will all join me in wishing our wonderful Matron Tracey the happiest of wedding days. She will tie the knot on 25 October and will return after half-term as Tracey Harrison.

From the Head of House

It's been amazing getting to know all the new girls over the past few weeks! It's been lovely to see everyone flourish as they find their people. We've had opportunities to do lots of house nights, including hot chocolate and karaoke during Pembroke open house. We're extremely lucky to have welcomed many new people, who have really contributed to the Pembroke environment.

We placed third in the main song in House singing which was a brilliant achievement, and we were lucky enough to come away with joint third after our part song. Well done girls!

There is no question that this term is a long one, however with the continued support within the House, the girls will be in safe hands. Take some time to rest, recover and recharge, ready for the next half term to come our way.
